AFTERWORDS

Sorry for the delay in releasing this chapter! Other work started to pile up so I kinda had to finish that first. Anyways, I hope you continue to stick around! This series is great (and it doesn't have the cursed love triangle).
